Michigan's Mission Possible

with

Ms. Carrie Wozniak

We are especially happy to have Macomb's Carrie Wozniak joining us to present this wonderful complement to Macomb ISD's now famous Secondary English Language Arts Units, which she helped develop. Carrie brings extensive secondary classroom experience, a nearly completed Ph.D. in Literacy from Oakland University and a fun, yet effective presentation style that you will really enjoy!

Participants at this workshop can expect to learn:

- Current research and best practices for high level adolescent literacy
- How to navigate Michigan's Mission Possible website and how the skills are scaffolded for success for ALL students
- The 21st Century Literacy skills that all high school students should possess
- How to develop a renewed focus on building powerful vocabulary, critical reading, writing, thinking, problem solving and collaboration skills.

This workshop is appropriate for all Grade 6 through 12 ELA teachers and will be held Tuesday, January 19, 2010 from 4:30 to 8:30 p.m. at Lewis Cass ISD Conference Room #1, Cassopolis, MI.
